

Have you passed the Pre-exam in 2024?

Yes

Congratulations! 🎉

Main exams in 2025 and/or 2026 (old EQE)

Enrol for Paper A and/or B and/or C and/or D, but preferably all of them already in 2025 as there are only 2 years left of the old exams. This gives you a chance to re-sit any failed papers in 2026 and hopefully completely skip the New EQE. → The earliest possible qualification year is 2025.

M2 in 2026, M3 and M4 exams in 2027 (transition to new EQE)

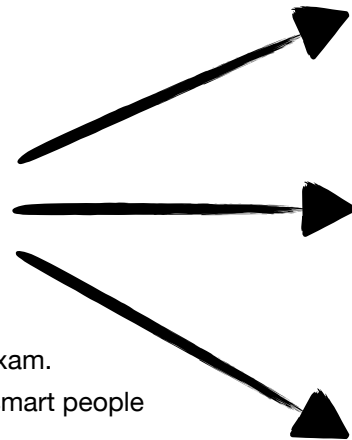

(Or M2, M3 and M4 in 2027.) Passing Pre-exam makes you exempt from F and M1. M3 and M4 are first offered in 2027. → The earliest possible qualification year is 2027.

No

Don't worry, it is just an exam.

Do you know how many smart people fail exams?

Well, I don't have an exact number, but it is definitely not only you!

Main exams in 2026 (old EQE)

Wait a year and you will be allowed to sit any of Paper A, B, C and D in 2026 without ever passing the Pre-exam. → The earliest possible qualification year is 2026.

F exam in 2025 (new EQE)

Start the new EQE track and enrol for the first Paper F in 2025. Candidates may enrol from 8 July until 23 September 2024 for paper F, held on 21 March 2025. → The earliest possible qualification year is 2027.

M1, M2, M3, M4 exams in 2027 (new EQE, fast track)

Skip 2025 and 2026. Start the new EQE fast track and enrol for M1, M2, M3 and M4 in 2027. → The earliest possible qualification year is 2027.
